IN ORDER TO GET AN MA YOU MUST:

PLAN A: Thesis

1. Be registered as a full-time student for at least two semesters.
2. Demonstrate competence in one language other than your native language.
3. Take a minimum of 21 credits for a letter grade (not CR/NC or Audit)¹.
   - Four core courses (Core List: 410, 420, 421, 422, 645).
     - Students who are not exempted from any of the Core courses will need to earn more than 30 credit hours to complete these requirements (specifically 24 credits and nine hours of LING 700).
   - Four graduate-level courses (including a 700-level seminar) approved by your supervisor.
4. Write and defend your thesis proposal. Once your proposal has been accepted, a copy must be given to the department office to keep on file. This copy will be available to all faculty and MA students in the Linguistics Department. A printed copy of your approved thesis proposal must be submitted to the department office no later than the end of the semester following your proposal defense.
5. Give the Department office a copy of your IRB human subjects approval/exemption. This should be done shortly after your thesis proposal defense. It is sent along with a form to the Graduate Division. After processing, the department office will give you the CRN to register for LING 700.*
6. Write your thesis (9 credits of LING 700)¹. If you have not completed your thesis by the time you have taken the required 9 credits of LING 700, you can register for one credit of GRAD 700F per semester and this will allow you to maintain your full-time status (if you are a foreign or financial-aid student). In order to do this, you must download a petition form from the Graduate Division website. After your petition is approved, you can get a CRN number for the semester from the Graduate Division (Records Office).
7. Be a registered student (LING 700 or GRAD 700F) at the time of your defense.
8. Your committee chair will let you know when your thesis draft is nearly ready to distribute to your committee. At this point you and your chair should agree upon a timeline, keeping in mind the following three deadlines.
   - Your committee should receive your thesis at least four weeks prior to your proposed defense date. (Some flexibility in this deadline may be permitted if there is a consensus among the committee members.)
   - Your defense must be held at least two weeks prior to the Graduate Division’s deadline for submission of the final version. Check with the department office for that deadline.
   - At least 15 calendar days prior to your defense date, you must submit the department’s form “Final Oral Examination for Master’s Thesis Defense”, signed by your chair. Should the committee determine that the thesis is not defendable, the defense may be cancelled and a notification will be sent to the Graduate Division.
9. Submit a PDF version of your thesis at least 2 weeks prior to the defense. The title page should contain a clear indication that this is a ‘pre-defense draft’.
11. Once all revisions have been made and your committee chair approves your thesis, ask your chair to notify the department office. You need to pick up Form IV-Thesis Submission from the department office to submit with your final thesis to the Graduate Division (Records Office). The Graduate Division requires a digital copy of your thesis saved on a CD.
12. Submit a PDF version of your final approved thesis to the department office.

PLAN B: Non-Thesis

1. Be registered as a full-time student for at least two semesters.
2. Demonstrate competence in one language other than your native language.
3. Take 30 credit hours of course work for a letter grade (not CR/NCR or Audit) following one of the three streams below.
   - 18 hours must be at the 600-level or above, including a 3-credit 700-level seminar.

Linguistic Analysis Stream

   five courses from the Analysis Core (15 credits)
   - LING 410: Articulatory Phonetics
   - LING 420: Morphology
   - LING 421: Intro to Phonological Analysis
   - LING 422: Intro to Grammatical Analysis
   - LING 645: Comparative Method
   - four courses approved by your advisor, but not 699 (12 credits)
   - one 700-level seminar (3 credits)

Schedule and give a final seminar presentation in the department.
   - Pick-up a seminar requirement form at least two weeks prior to your presentation.
   - Submit your approved seminar requirement form to the department office.
   - (Deadline to complete seminar requirement is three weeks prior to the last day of instruction.)

¹ Faculty unanimously approved revision at Sept 29, 2009 department meeting.
* This must be arranged with the department secretary.
STUDENT PROGRESS LIST, DEPARTMENT OF LINGUISTICS
This progress list should be used in addition to the department’s MA Manual, where you will find additional information about each of the following.

Experimental Linguistics Stream

- four courses from the Experimental Core (12 credits)
  - LING 410: Articulatory Phonetics
  - LING 420: Morphology
  - LING 421: Intro to Phonological Analysis
  - LING 422: Intro to Grammatical Analysis
  - LING 441: Meaning
  - LING 645: Comparative Method

- two Experimental courses (6 credits)
  - LING 431: Computational Modeling
  - LING 640S: Sociolinguistics
  - LING 640Y: Psycholinguistics
  - LING 670: Developmental Linguistics

- one Data Analysis course (3 credits)
  - EDEP 429: Introductory Statistics
  - EDEP 605: Factor Analysis
  - EDEP 612: Statistical Power in Behavioral Research
  - SLS 490: Second Language Testing
  - SLS 671: Research in Language Testing
  - PSY 610: Introduction to Quantitative Methods
  - PSY 611: Design and Analysis of Psychological Experiments

- two more courses approved by your advisor, but not 699 (6 credits)

- one 700-level seminar (3 credits)

Schedule and give a final seminar presentation in the department.
Pick-up a seminar requirement form at least two weeks prior to your presentation.
Submit your approved seminar requirement form to the department office.
(Deadline to complete seminar requirement is three weeks prior to the last day of instruction.)

Language Documentation and Conservation Stream

- six LDC courses (18 credits)
  - LING 410: Articulatory Phonetics
  - LING 420: Morphology
  - LING 421: Intro to Phonological Analysis
  - LING 422: Intro to Grammatical Analysis
  - LING 640G: Introduction to Documentary Linguistics
  - LING 750G: Methods of Language Documentation

- two of the following Method and Areal courses (6 credits)
  - LING 611: Acoustic Phonetics
  - LING 630: Field Methods
  - LING 631: Language Data Processing
  - LING 640G: Polynesian Language Family
  - LING 640G: Typology
  - LING 640S: Sociolinguistics
  - LING 645: Comparative Method
  - LING 661: Proto-Austronesian
  - LING 750F: Phonetic Fieldwork on Endangered Languages
  - LING 750G: Lexicography
  - LING 750G: Methods of Language Conservation
  - LING 750G: Writing Grammars
  - LING 770: Areal Linguistics

- two more Method and Areal courses or courses approved by your advisor, but not 699 (6 credits)

Compile a research portfolio (50+ pages) by the end of your final semester.
Submit your research portfolio to the department office for approval by the LDC Committee.
(Deadline to submit your research portfolio is three weeks prior to last day of the semester.)